

Participating/Cooperating Agencies
During the PD&E Process:
Planning Organizations and Lead Agencies

Definition: Participating Agency

Pursuant to Section 6002 of SAFETEA-LU, participating agencies are responsible to identify, as early as practicable, any issues of concern regarding the project's potential environmental or socioeconomic impacts that could substantially delay or prevent an agency from granting a permit or other approval that is needed for the project. Federal, state, tribal, regional, and local government agencies that have an interest in the project can be participating agencies.

Pursuant to Section 1305 of Map-21 each participating agency shall carry out the obligations of that agency under other applicable law concurrently, and in conjunction, with the review required under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.), unless doing so would impair the ability of the Federal agency to conduct needed analysis or otherwise carry out those obligations; and formulate and implement administrative, policy, and procedural mechanisms to enable the agency to ensure completion of the environmental review process in a timely, coordinated, and environmentally responsible manner.

The designation of participating agency does not imply that your agency supports the proposed project; has any jurisdiction over, or special expertise with respect to evaluation of the project.

Definition: Cooperating Agency

According to the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) (40 CFR 1508.5), cooperating agency means any federal agency, other than a lead agency, that has jurisdiction by law or special expertise with respect to any environmental impact involved in a proposed project or project alternative. A State or local agency of similar qualifications (or when the effects are on lands of tribal interest, a Native American tribe) may, by agreement with the lead agency, also become a cooperating agency. Cooperating agencies have a higher degree of authority, responsibility, and involvement in the environmental review process than participating agencies. Because the cooperating agencies have legal/jurisdiction requirements tied to the preparation of the Environmental Document they may be called upon to review the pre-circulation Environmental Document on a case by case basis by the lead agency.

The standard for participating agency status is more encompassing than the standard for cooperating agency status. Therefore, cooperating agencies are, by definition, participating agencies, but not all participating agencies are cooperating agencies.

Pursuant to Section 1305 of Map-21 each cooperating agency shall carry out the obligations of that agency under other applicable law concurrently, and in conjunction, with the review required under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.), unless doing so would impair the ability of the Federal agency to conduct needed analysis or otherwise carry out those obligations; and formulate and implement administrative, policy, and procedural mechanisms to enable the agency to ensure completion of the environmental review process in a timely, coordinated, and environmentally responsible manner.

Email Invitation sent to invited agency

The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) is scoping for a Class of Action for proposed ETDM Project #12657. The purpose of the project, as currently defined, can be found within the Environmental Screening Tool (EST) at <https://pre-prod.fl-a-etat.org/est/?openPage=pnReport.jsp&projectId=12657>

As part of the environmental review process for this project, the lead agency must identify, as early as practicable, any other federal and non-federal agencies that may have an interest in the project, and invite such agencies to serve as participating or cooperating agencies in the environmental review process. A cooperating agency also assumes the role of a participating agency as described below. The roles and responsibilities of participating and cooperating agencies are similar, but cooperating agencies have a higher degree of authority, responsibility, and involvement in the environmental review process (40 CFR Section 1501.6).

With this letter, we extend an invitation to FL Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services to serve as a cooperating agency with the FHWA in the development of the Class of Action for the subject project. FL Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services will serve as a cooperating agency in accordance with 40 CFR 1501.6 of the Council on Environmental Quality's (CEQ) Regulations for Implementing the Procedural Provision of the National Environmental Policy Act.

Pursuant to Section 6002 of SAFETEA-LU and Section 1305 of MAP-21, participating agencies are responsible to identify, as early as practicable, any issues of concern regarding the project's potential environmental or socioeconomic impacts that could substantially delay or prevent an agency from granting a permit or other approval that is needed for the project. We suggest that your agency's role in the development of the above project should include the following as they relate to your area of expertise:

- Provide meaningful and early input on defining the purpose and need, determining the range of alternatives to be considered, and the methodologies and level of detail required in the alternatives analysis.
- Participate in coordination meetings and joint field reviews as appropriate.
- Timely review and comment on the pre-draft or pre-final environmental documents to reflect the views and concerns of your agency on the adequacy of the document, alternatives considered, and the anticipated impacts and mitigation.

Please respond to the invitation prior to the expiration date, Tuesday, November 20, 2012, at the following page within the EST <https://pre-prod.fl-a-etat.org/est/?openPage=screening%2FInvitationResponse.do?invitationId=75> accessible via <https://pre-prod.fl-a-etat.org/est> Tools > Review Project > Participating / Cooperating Invitation.

Your agency must accept this invitation by the expiration date (Tuesday, November 20, 2012) to become a cooperating agency.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss in more detail the project or our agencies' respective roles and responsibilities during the preparation of this Class of Action, please contact the Project's ETDM Coordinator or Project Manager listed above.

Thank you for your cooperation and interest in this project.
